

Judicial Ticket.

For Associate Justices of Supreme Court—
DAVID TAYLOR, of Fond du Lac.
HARLOW S. ORTON, of Dane.THE PASSAGE OF THE DOUBLE STAND-
DARD BILL.

The measure known as the Bland silver bill passed the House of Representatives on the 21st instant, with all the Senate's amendments, by a vote of 204 to 72. Mr. Bland first introduced the bill in 1876, and passed the House by a good majority, but it failed in the Senate. It was again taken up, and passed the House on the 5th of November, 1877, by a vote of 164 to 34. The original bill was materially amended by the Senate, and was concurred in with the amendments on the 16th of February, the vote standing 45 to 21. It was then returned to the House, and after one of the most remarkable debates, considering the limited time to each speaker, ever heard in that hall, the bill passed untouched, by a flustering vote of 204 to 72. It has gone to the President for his signature, and the probabilities are that it will be returned approved on Monday. Those opposed to the bill are in hopes that the President will veto it, but the majority in favor of the measure is so overwhelmingly larger, that unless he simply wants to place himself on the records, that it will be useless for him to stamp it with a veto. It will become a law in spite of the Executive opposition.

Never before in the history of this country has any question been taken before Congress which so united the West, as this silver measure. The unanimity was remarkable. The Northwestern States clapped hands and became almost a unit in favor of the bill. When Hewitt, of New York, made a motion to table the bill, nine Western States cast 50 votes against the motion. Ohio cast 17, Indiana, 13, Illinois, 19, Iowa, 9, Wisconsin and Michigan, 8 each, Minnesota, 2, Kansas, 3 and Nebraska, 1. We regret that the same unanimity was not shown in the desire to make the coming dollar equal in value to a gold dollar, and to accomplish this had put in at least 425 grains instead of 412½. This would have made the Bland bill entirely unobjectionable to the men who believe in a double standard.

The next question is, how will this measure effect the country? It must be admitted by all thinking men that for some time it cannot produce any material change in business. Those who hope that by some mysterious means the silver dollars will take a bee-line from the mints to their pockets, will be badly deceived. If they haven't money now, they can't get it even by the Bland bill unless they have something to get it with. There are two salutary influences which we may reasonably hope the silver bill will exert on the country—it will satisfy, in a great measure, the public mind, and will no doubt in a large degree settle the financial condition of the United States.

THE BAR AND THE LEGISLATURE.

The State Bar Association met at Madison on Wednesday afternoon, and adjourned on Thursday morning. There were almost two hundred and fifty members present, which may be considered a very fair representation. One of the main objects in meeting was to take some action regarding candidates for two additional justices of the Supreme Court. Before the Association convened, however, party caucuses of the Legislature went to work and took the responsibility of making such nominations out of the hands of the lawyers. By a previous agreement between the parties, the matter was settled harmoniously, or far as the caucuses were concerned, and the Republicans chose Judge Taylor, and the Democrats, Judge Orton.

The Association considered the caucus nominations illtimed and out of place, and this belief generally prevailed among the members. The gateway to discussion on this point was opened when Mr. Carter, of Fond du Lac, offered a resolution that the Bar concur in the nomination of Judge Taylor. This called several members of the Association to their feet who were determined to oppose the adoption of the resolution. The opposition was so manifest, that Mr. Carter withdrew the resolution. Several members urged the Association to make nominations regardless of the action of the caucuses, but this being characterized as being too bold a step, the measure was defeated. The jangle continued during the session, and at last a resolution was offered endorsing the nominations of Taylor and Orton. On the heels of this came a motion to adjourn, which carried, and without taking any action in regard to the Supreme Judgeship, the State Bar Association adjourned.

THE KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Honor closed its second annual session in Milwaukee, on Thursday evening. The session was a very profitable one and was fairly attended. The following officers were elected for the present year:
Grand Past Dictator—D. C. Babcock, Appleton.
Grand Dictator—J. H. Hanner, Fond du Lac.
Grand Vice Dictator—A. C. Allen, Milwaukee.
Grand Assistant Dictator—G. A. Mory, Racine.
Grand Chaplain—J. W. Sanderson, Janesville.
Grand Reporter—W. H. Brazier, Milwaukee.
Grand Treasurer—J. O. Thayer, Sheboygan.
Grand Guard—Mills Tourtellote, La Crosse.
Grand Guardian—O. W. Ruedel, Watertown.
Grand Sentinel—D. G. Hawley, Milwaukee.
Grand Trustee—D. C. Babcock, Appleton; W. A. Sanders, Oshkosh; E. W. Clark, Neenah.
Representatives to the Supreme Lodge—W. A. Sanders, Oshkosh; J. B. Hanner, alternate.
There were between forty and fifty delegates, representing various parts of the State. The reports given by them as to the condition of the order in their respective places, were very encouraging. In this State the jurisdiction has increased at least 33 per cent within the past year. There are now 22 lodges and 865 members. The membership of the order in the United States is about 32,000, and is rapidly increasing. As a benevolent institution, it ranks among the best and the most prosperous in the country. During the present meeting a new constitution has been considered section by section and adopted and many questions of law in the Order have been decided. An important feature was the adoption of a resolution to memorialize the Supreme Lodge to increase the payment of the Widow and Orphan Fund from $2000 to $5000.

TO BE HELD AT MADISON.

The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society have conditionally agreed to locate the next State fair at Madison. This action will surprise the people of Rock county, as it has been the custom to hold the fair at one place for at least two consecutive years; and for another reason, that Janesville had complied with all the requirements of the Society in raising the necessary funds with which to make the grounds as desirable in all respects, as any in Wisconsin. There was nothing lacking to give the Janesville grounds a superiority over all others for State fair purposes. Still, the Committee were prejudiced in favor of Madison. The almost absolute certainty of meeting with greater financial success in this city than at any other point in the State, did not seem to have any influence over a majority of the Committee. Madison wanted it, and though the people had not raised the amount demanded by the Society, yet there was a prospect that they would, and if they succeeded, the Committee promised to give them the benefit of the fair. The amount required to be raised is $3,000, and there is no doubt, the sum will be obtained, as Madison is bestirring itself quite lively in that direction. Mr. Miner, the treasurer, laid before the Committee some solid facts, showing the advantages of locating the fair at Janesville, but the Committee shut their eyes and went it blind on Madison. We think the decision of the Committee wrong for two very substantial reasons: First, it has been the rule, as we have said, to hold the fair in the same place for at least two years; and the second, and the more important reason, is that from a financial point of view, Janesville is the better place, and for that reason alone, should have been selected.

It is stated at Washington that Dr. Linderman, director of the mint, who has just returned from an examination of the Philadelphia Mint, reports that two weeks after the bill becomes a law that mint can coin 240 silver dollars a minute, and turn into the Treasury $1,500,000, possibly $2,000,000, monthly. This, in addition to all other coinage. The San Francisco Mint can do as much exclusive of all other coinage save trade dollars. Four months' time and $75,000 would be necessary to place the New Orleans Mint in condition.

A correspondent wants to know who General Anderson, of the Returning Board, is. Anderson is a pure Southerner. For about twenty-eight years he was a Senator in Louisiana. He was a Democratic Senator for nearly sixteen years before the war, and during the war was a member of the Senate four years, and following the war was in the Senate eight years. During Warmoth's gubernatorial career, Anderson was a Warmoth Democrat, but since that time—1873—he has been a Republican.

A writer sends us a communication on the Resumption Act, in which he takes the ground that the act has been repealed by the Bland bill. He is laboring under a mistake. The bill repealing the Resumption act is a different one from the silver bill, and passed the House on the 23d of November by a close vote of 133 to 120.

At the birth of the National Party yesterday at Toledo, the committees on credentials and platform, contain the names of Dr. J. Lambord and J. M. Binkley, of Wisconsin. Will some one please resurrect these men for the public benefit?

The Legislature did not reverse the 23d very much, but ran through the calendar as usual.

There is a fair prospect that the county insane bill will pass the Legislature.

The Legislature will not adjourn until the latter part of March.

ABOUT EDUCATION.

The Committee on Institutes in the Board of Normal Regents, have arranged for holding twenty-two institutes in March and April. They will be under charge of the regular conductors, who are also Professors in the Normal schools. Prof. Graham, of Oshkosh, will conduct three, each of two weeks duration; Prof. Thayer, of River Falls, seven; Prof. Salisbury, of Whitewater, and Prof. McGregor, of Platteville, each six, all of one week in length. The only ones of special interest to your readers are those at Footville, March 13—22, and those at Stoughton, March 25—29, both conducted by Prof. McGregor. These institutes are of great value to teachers and should be attended by all who are now or may be engaged in teaching. The committee have published for distribution among the teachers a full outline of the work to be done at these spring institutes. There is but little being done in the Legislature with reference to educational matters. The "Text Book Bill" is still in the hands of the Committee on Education. It has very little support this year and will doubtless meet with deserved defeat. A bill has been introduced making some changes in the reports required of district clerks, simplifying them and omitting some unimportant items.

Another important bill before the Assembly is one requiring the attendance of every child between the ages of 8 and 14 years, upon a common school for at least twelve weeks in each school year, unless the Board of Education shall grant an excuse on account of bodily or mental infirmity, necessity to labor for the support of an indigent parent, brother or sister, or from the fact that the child is being or has been otherwise educated. It also forbids the employment, by any manufacturer or other person, of any child under fourteen years of age, during established school hours, unless the former provision of the law has been complied with. It also provides for ascertaining the condition of children employed at daily labor, or not in attendance, the furnishing of books to indigent children, and the imposing of penalties for violations of the act. On the whole it seems to be a very good device for securing the attendance of all children upon the common school for a portion, at least, of each year. The Bureau of Education at Washington, has just called upon Superintendent Whitford to furnish an Educational Exhibit for the Paris Exposition. In my next, I will endeavor to give you some idea of what is to be sent.

LEGISLATURE.

But Little Business Done Yesterday—Both Houses Adjourned Until Monday Evening.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—In the Assembly to-day bills were introduced authorizing the Secretary of State to audit certain accounts of ex-Treasurer Agent Abert, and encouraging the keeping of stallions. In the Senate a bill was passed authorizing Barron county to issue bonds. Both houses adjourned till Monday night out of respect to the memory of Washington.

BRETHREN OF THE BAR.

Their Association Met Yesterday and To-day, and Talked of Professional Matters and Things—What They Did and Said.

From the State Journal.
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.
The State Bar Association met yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the U. S. Court room, President M. M. Strong calling the meeting to order.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Col. E. E. Bryant. Mr. Gill then offered a resolution, which was amended by L. F. Frisby so as to read as follows:

Resolved, That this Association is in favor of strict enforcement of the laws of the State, relating to the admission of attorneys.
The resolution was adopted.
R. L. D. Potter then made a motion to adjourn till 7 o'clock p. m. The motion was withdrawn, to allow the committee on amendments of the laws to make a report.

Gen. Geo. B. Smith, chairman of that committee, and Wm. E. Carter, member of the same, made a report in regard to the publication of the Supreme Court Reports and in regard to the salary of the reporter, giving propositions and statements as made by various publication houses to the committee, the committee by their report strongly favoring the present system. Gen. Geo. B. Smith and J. C. Spooner making arguments of some length setting forth the objections to having the publications made outside of the State and by the lowest bidder, showing that the reports under the present system were promptly issued, and given up and could in the future be purchased cheap enough. Mr. P. A. Orton stated that the publication of the reports and the manner of paying the reporter, subjects that had been alluded to in previous arguments, were two different and distinct subjects. He was in favor of allowing the contract of publication to the lowest and best bidder, believing that the lawyers throughout the State had been charged too much for the reports.

Motion was then made to lay the report of the committee on the table, which was carried by a strong majority.

Mr. Geo. W. Carter, of Fond du Lac, offered the following:

Resolved, That this Association concur in the nomination of Judge Taylor, made the previous evening by the Republican caucus.
Gen. Gill objected to the resolution as being extremely partisan. Not objecting to the candidate, but to the manner of his nomination. That the Bar Association was the larger, able and the proper body to make such nominations. And he proposed that the Association proceed at once to put in nomination two candidates for Associate Justices of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Carter withdrew his resolution.
Chas. Falker, of Oshkosh, moved that when the Association adjourn, it be until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning, and then proceed to recommend two persons for candidates for Associate Judges of the Supreme Court.

The latter part of the above motion caused a lengthy debate.
Mr. Sat. Clark, Mr. Gill, and John J. Orton and J. C. Stone were strongly in favor of the Bar Association going on, regardless of political caucus or candidates made by those bodies, and put in nomination two able and worthy lawyers for those high positions.

Mr. Nelson Wheeler was of the same opinion, and in his comical way spoke very disparagingly of the political caucus that had met and the one that was about to meet.

Col. Wm. F. Vilas then spoke at some length, taking the most sensible idea of the matter, as they were and what ought to be done by the Association under the circumstances; he spoke highly of the effort that had been made by the two political parties, to take the matter out of party prejudice; he spoke in a most complimentary manner of the candidate of the Republican caucus; that the Convention could endorse that nomination, and if the Democratic caucus should do as well, the Association could do the same in regard to such nomination.

THURSDAY MORNING.
The Bar Association resumed its session this morning. A sharp debate upon the Associate Justice question ensued, but an adjournment sine die was ordered, the Association having taken no action upon the same, nor transacted any other business of importance.

ARMED TO THE TEETH

All Europe Armed and Arming—Threatening Prospects that the War will Continue—Turkey Hesitates to Accept Russian Demands.

London, Feb. 23.—5 a. m.—Turkey hesitates to accept the conditions imposed by Russia, and the negotiations at Adrianople are at a standstill. As I telegraphed you February 9, Russia demands the Turkish fleet, and also the session of a large part of Armenia. In case these terms are not accepted soon Russia will occupy Constantinople, and she may do so anyhow.

Gen. Ghourko has concentrated a large body of troops at Tchalidja, and the Tribune's Constantinople correspondent telegraphs that they are picked regiments, and that they are in light marching order with supplies for three days constantly ready to move with them.

Useless hope definite arrangement is reached at Adrianople before the 1st of March. Occupation of Constantinople may be expected any day thereafter, and the Turkish fleet will either be taken at the same time or placed in such a position as to be unable to escape. The situation grows less encouraging daily, and the tone of the British press shows how great is the apprehension here.

The London Times closing its leading editorial as follows: "As Lord Beaconsfield said on Thursday, Europe is armed to the teeth, and is increasing its armaments day by day. In such circumstances the country can but give its confidence to the Government, and trust that they will be able to control the dangerous susceptibilities which have on all sides been aroused."

THE SILVER BILL.

Prospects that the President Will Not Interpose the Veto Power—What his Intimate Friends Say.

Washington, Feb. 22.—It is now stated quite positively by some of the President's friends that he will sign the silver bill on Monday as soon as it is presented to him, under protest, and will accompany the return of the bill to the House with a message that he does not approve of the bill, but signs it because of the large vote it has received in both branches of Congress; that he signed it to stop the further agitation of a question which has already depressed the nation, and for the reason that to withhold his signature he does not believe would defeat the bill. This message, it is said, is now in course of preparation, and will be ready by the time the President receives the bill. Although the statement is made by persons who ought to know, it is not generally accepted as true, anti-silver men almost universally holding to the belief that the bill will be vetoed.

All agree that whatever is done will be done quickly, and that Monday, when the bill will be carried to him by the Committee on Enrolled Bills, he will be ready to act at once, allowing one day for Cabinet consideration.

THE NEW PARTY.

Assembly of the Convention—The Object—Its Organization—Its Name—Speeches, Etc.

Toledo, Feb. 22.—The Greenback party of the United States met in its first regular national convention at 10:30 this morning, at the Wheeler Opera House, and was called to order by Dr. D. B. Sturgeon, of Toledo, who, after an invocation by the Rev. D. H. M. McCracken, read the call for the convention, and briefly stated the objects sought and their importance, and alluded to the widespread interest in the greenback movement.

He then nominated Captain R. F. Trevelick, of Detroit, as temporary chairman. Messrs. O. J. Smith, of Terra Haute, and F. J. Scott, of Toledo, were appointed secretaries.

A motion was carried that one person shall be nominated by each State delegation here represented to constitute a committee on credentials, and that no person who has any present affiliation with either political party shall be appointed on this committee.

The committee were chosen, a platform adopted, speeches made, and the party christened. It is to be called the National Party. E. P. Allis, of Milwaukee, took an active part in the proceedings.

GENERAL GRANT.

An Interview at Cairo—The Controversy About the Sumner-Motley Affair.

New York, Feb. 22.—A published interview with Gen. Grant, in Cairo, Egypt, reveals the controversy about Sumner and Motley. The general says of the discussion of the question: "If respect is due to the dead, truth and justice are due to the living, and I only spoke in self-defense, and after many years of silent submission to assaults from Mr. Sumner and his friends, only in the interest of truth and justice."

Mr. Jay, as no one knows so well as Gov. Fish and myself, makes a pretext of eulogizing the dead to attack Gov. Fish. If any one hated Sumner it was Jay at the time of the appointment of Motley as minister to England. Jay wanted to go to England, and was sorely disappointed that a change would not be made in his favor, even if Motley had been fully assured of his appointment. Jay most probably forgave Sumner before the Senator's death, but he blamed him for his failure to go to London."

QUEEN'S CIRCUS.

Louisville, Feb. 22.—The sale of Montgomery Queen's circus concluded to-day. Horses and ponies brought a trifle over $5,000, going principally to local purchasers, and aggregating a total of about $21,000. Queen's liabilities were $160,000, and the only secured debt which holds good for the full amount is that of the Buffalo Courier Company, $18,000, made good by attachment.

IT IS MURDER.

A Conviction of Murder for being Concerned in the Lynching of Desperados Eighteen Years Ago.

Tama, Iowa, Feb. 22.—L. M. Smill, of Polk county, this State, was to-day convicted of murder in the first degree. The indictment was found against Smill and other eighteen years ago, as supposed accomplices in the lynching of the Bunker boys, who were known as members of a gang of desperados and horse thieves that infested this county in its early history. Mr. Smill has been a resident of Iowa over thirty years, and of Polk county twenty years. His reputation has ever been that of an honorable gentleman, and was testified to by many of the best men of Des Moines. The old citizens of this county are indignant at the verdict, as, at the time, they considered they had been relieved of two desperate characters, and from whom the laws were unable to protect them and their property.

SHOT DEAD.

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 22.—There has been an old hatred existing between two well-known farmers of this county for several years past. To-day one of the parties, Griffin by name, entered the house of his neighbor and threatened to kill him, whereupon the neighbor coolly took his shot-gun from its resting place and discharged the contents of one barrel in the bowels of Griffin. The homicide gave himself up. Griffin is reported dead.

SLIPPERY.

Adrian, Mich., Feb. 22.—Daniel Tanner was arrested by the Deputy Sheriff of this county in Milwaukee Wednesday, and brought here last night and jailed in default of $1,000 bail. Daniel promised to marry Maggie Post, got her revolver, gold watch and chain, and $100 in money, and then eloped with Mrs. Van Sickles. He is also charged with horse-stealing.

SUICIDE.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 22.—J. W. McGidley committed suicide at the Lunatic Asylum this afternoon by hanging himself with a sheet. He had been in the asylum nearly three years.

KILLED AND EATEN.

Sufferings of a Vessel's Crew—A Week at Sea Without Food.

Captain Charles Keene, of the schooner Speedwell, arriving in New York a few days ago, brought with him the officers and all, except one, of the crew of the Saline M. Steelman. He reported that he found her nearly water-logged, but making steering way, under fore and mainmast, northeast of the Bermuda Islands. She was flying the American flag, Union down, as a signal of distress. He sent his first mate, H. O. Sawyer, to her, and he took away all on board. He reported that nothing movable was left on deck, and that the men were hardly able to walk. Every article of food in the Saline had been consumed eight days previously. The remains of a man were found, from which parts of the flesh had been cut. Some of the flesh so removed was found in a barrel with some salt. This, it was explained to Sawyer, was done to prevent it from spoiling. The captain, who was wasted with hunger, told the mate that two colored men of the crew had quarreled, and one had killed the other in self-defense. The body was immediately cut up and eaten, all hands helping to do it. The six survivors speedily recovered their health on board the Speedwell. The captain of the Steelman was found Monday by a reporter. His bronzed cheeks were yet sunken, though his eyes had recovered brightness. His name is S. G. Higbee. He told his story willingly.

George Suman was the first of the colored men to give out. After he had been without food for four to five days he became crazy. On the morning of the 30th the three colored men were in the forecastle together. There were no white men there. I was afterward told by the other two colored men that Suman declared he would kill Walter Sampson to eat him. Each of the three had a pistol, as I afterwards discovered. Suddenly Suman made an attack on Sampson. He did not fire at him with his pistol. He either drew it or else attempted to strike him. Sampson, however, was too quick for him. He drew his own pistol and killed Suman instantly. He fired three shots. Suman did not fire. I heard the shots. I went into the forecastle and found Suman dead. The rest of us were afraid of our lives. If the negroes had not got into the quarrel and killed one of themselves, probably they would have attacked us. We had no pistols. That afternoon we cut a piece off of the fleshy part of the leg, and broiled it on the fire. What we did not want we put in a barrel with some salt, because we did not want to run the risk of having another man shot. The rest of the body we afterwards buried, with proper ceremonies. I ate a piece as large as my two fingers only. It was handed to me as it was taken off the fire and I covered it on both sides with mustard. I tasted nothing but the mustard, but that night I felt bad effects from it. I don't think any of us was in his right mind on January 30th. I am pretty sure I was not. It seemed to me as if my blood had stopped flowing. I felt throughout my whole body just as a man's foot feels when it is asleep. The next day the Speedwell rescued us. The schooner went to the bottom probably the night we left her.

Bogus Assumption of Southern Dignity. Washington Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial.

Some of the Georgia Democrats are getting on a high horse, and reading all over Hayes. The latest victim is ex-Congressman Young, whom Hayes appointed Honorary Commissioner to Paris. The salary is simply $1,200 for expenses. The salary of Young says he would rather have given him that amount and sent him to Paris than to have had him accept office from Hayes, for it will forever ruin a promising Georgia politician. The renewed party and sectional feeling which crops out here in incidents of this character is owing to the lamentable New Orleans complications. A great deal of ill-feeling has been stirred up and nobody benefited.

—Dr. Horne has been confined to the house by illness for a few days past. Hope to see him around in a few days, with his accustomed heartiness and jollity.

—In the horse suit of Edwards vs. Maguire, Justice Phelps has decided to give Edwards the possession of the steed, for $25 keep, and has also added the costs, amounting to about $30, to Maguire.

—During the past week there have been 106 money orders issued amounting to $1,252.78 and 98 paid amounting to $1,529.86, making a total business of $2782.64.

—A lodge of Knights of Pythias is being organized. The charter members are requested to meet at J. P. Williams' office, over the post office at half-past seven o'clock to-night.

—Summer is fast crowding on. Already lettuce and radishes are in the market here. If you don't believe it, step into Dennison's and see for yourselves. He promises other vegetables soon.

—Mr. Ed. Cline, of Janesville, was in Monroe Tuesday morning. Having disposed of his property just east of town, Mr. Cline proposes to begin the erection of a house in Janesville soon.—Monroe Reformer.

—Francis Krebswetter is the horrible title of a confirmed vag, who after working on the roads for the city for a month or more, was let loose again. He wouldn't jump the town, and was sent back to his abode again by Justice Patten to-day, and given work for 35 days more.

—The report of the Revisors of the Statutes, as far as completed, is now at Pease & Ruger's law office, where it can be inspected by such of the legal fraternity and citizens as may choose to do so. Only one copy could be procured at present for Janesville, and it has been left there for convenience.

—The ladies of Christ church have very appropriately decided to give the people of Janesville a choice entertainment before the season of Lent commences, and are making preparations that will do themselves justice and satisfy those that attend. It will take place next Thursday evening, at Apollo hall, and those that desire a right good time, ought not to let the opportunity pass.

—The junior Dr. George Obittenden, has gone to Chicago, where he will be kept busy for a while, attending to the wants of patients in the County Hospital. This opportunity to gain practice and experience is a choice one, and will doubtless add much to the skill of Dr. C. The cases there are varied and often complicated, and afford a fine chance for a physician to gain practical knowledge, and an acquaintance with all the latest methods of handling diseases, and performing surgical operations.

—Mrs. St. John has been induced to resume her position in the Court street Methodist choir, and will enter at once upon her duties, appearing there tomorrow both morning and evening. This will be glad tidings of great joy to those who worship there, and to those who delight in hearing that artist sing. The additional culture gained by her during the past few months in Boston will doubtless add still further to her already far-reaching and enviable reputation as a singer, and the Court street folks may well congratulate themselves on having her with them again.

—The thermometer at 7 o'clock at 32 degrees above and at 1 o'clock at 40 degrees above. Cloudy. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer indicated 12 degrees and 25 degrees above.

DOINGS OF THE TEMPLE.

At a meeting of the Temple of Honor last night a committee was appointed to secure the presence of Miss Lily Runals, to take the leading part in an entertainment to be given in the future, in which home talent will assist. Miss Hattie Taylor, daughter of Constable John Taylor, presented the Temple a handsomely wrought and framed motto, "The Lord will Provide." Dr. Whiting made a happy presentation in her behalf, which was responded to by Worthy Chief Baldwin, and appropriate resolutions of thanks were passed. Mr. H. W. Bens, of Fond du Lac, Dep. G. W. T., of Illinois and Michigan, was present and made a stirring speech. He has done some very effective work in Northern Wisconsin as well as other sections of the country.

NIGH INTO DEATH.

An Engine Tosses a Farmer High in Air, and Kills His Two Horses.

A Narrow Escape from Instant Death—Whisky said to be the cause of it.

Quite a serious railroad accident occurred yesterday about two miles south of Clinton last night. A farmer named Ole Olson, a Norwegian of considerable wealth and local prominence, was driving toward his home which is about ten rods east of the railroad track, and as he crossed the track instead of keeping to the road, his team veered off to one side, and was floundering about in the mud between the track and the embankment when the north bound passenger train of the Northwestern, which arrives in Janesville about 9 o'clock, came steaming along at the usual rate of speed. The embankment being on one side, prevented the team from getting out of the way, and as the engineer did not see it until too late to slacken speed much, the engine struck the hind part of the wagon with full force, smashing it into fine kindling wood, killing both horses almost instantly, and throwing Mr. Olson some distance, and finally landing him in a soft bed of mud. As soon as possible the train was stopped, and run back to the scene of the accident. Olson was picked up insensible, and the extent of his injuries could not be definitely ascertained. An empty whisky bottle lay beside him, and from his appearance it seemed evident that he was in a stupid state of intoxication, which doubtless caused him to drive into the dangerous place where the engine overtook him. There were some external bruises about the face and shoulders, and his hands and arms were also scratched and bloodied. The hasty examination made revealed, however, no broken bones, and unless there are some internal injuries, more serious than were apparent at first sight, he will probably recover. His horse being but a few rods off, he was removed thither, and cared for, while the train went on its way. It seems probable that the very boozey state of intoxication which led him into the scrape was the cause of his miraculous escape therefrom, as he was thrown some distance, and had been sober enough to have fallen in any other way than as a limp bundle of rags some of his limbs would doubtless have been broken. It seems that no blame can be attached to the engineer, as he gave the usual signal on approaching the crossing, and the team was in a place where it had no business to be, and he did not see it in time to allow of much slackening of speed. The loss of the team, which was a valuable one, and the wagon, together with the ashes and pains which will now rack the frame of Mr. Olson will probably prove a most effectual temperance lecture to him at least. The great wonder is that he did not share the fate of his horses, and suffer instant death with them.

MUSIC AND MIRTH.

The Clements and A. M. Forrester will concert next Wednesday evening. The programme is a rich one and the entertainment will doubtless be worthy of a liberal patronage. In other places these singers have drawn large audiences, and are everywhere spoken of in the highest terms. The Milwaukee Sentinel says: "The Clements Brothers and A. M. Forrester are about starting on their annual concert tour through the State. These gentlemen have met with well-deserved success in their efforts heretofore. To agreeable manners they add fine voices and great ability as delineators of character, which causes their yearly advent to be looked for with pleasure, and insures them appreciative audiences."

DEATH OF T. A. HOPKINS.

From Elgin come the sad tidings that Theodore A. Hopkins, son of E. F. Hopkins, is no more, he having died of typhoid fever, a week ago last Wednesday night. Deceased had reached the age of twenty years. He was born in Fulton and with his family removed to Elgin about four years ago. Many of the citizens of Rock county remember the deceased as a genial and unostentatious young man, and will regret to learn of his death. Rev. C. E. Dickinson preached the funeral sermon the Baptist church being crowded. Deceased was a member of the Elgin guards and the hose company, and the Fire Department and Militia joined in the procession which followed the remains to their last resting place.

COLD WATER WOMEN.

The Ladies' Temperance Union at their meeting yesterday, resolved to organize some form of efforts in behalf of the children and youths of the city. They will hold a special meeting Friday, March 1st, at Prof. Haire's school room, at half past three o'clock, p. m., to which they invite all ladies, young and old, who are interested in the promotion of temperance and good morals in the community. The Ladies' Union, since closing their reading rooms for lack of funds, have been unable to prosecute any active work, but during the past three months have instituted measures that are showing good results. The reports from the Woman's Unions in Chicago and elsewhere, are encouraging, showing very clearly the value of woman's influence in shaping public sentiments.

BALE EN MASQUE.

The annual masquerade of the Concordia Society was held last Thursday night in Concordia hall, and as is usual, was well attended, the hall being crowded during a portion of the evening, in spite of the rain and mud which was on the outside. The costumes displayed were well chosen, and presented a great variety, combining the elegant and the comic. The music, supper, and other arrangements were in keeping with the occasion and were excellent, and the committee having these matters in charge deserve great credit. The evening was a decidedly enjoyable one and takes rank with any which have preceded it. These annual masquerades of this society are growing yearly in popularity, and attract hither many of the amusement lovers of other towns. The ball broke up at a late hour and all who attended expressed themselves as most highly gratified. Financially it was also a success, so that the Society may well feel proud of the entertainment thus furnished.

THE STATE FAIR.

Mr. Cyrus Miner has returned from Madison where he has been attending the meeting of the committee to whom was left the choosing of a location for the State fair. The committee decided to hold the fair in Madison provided that the grounds there should be fitted up to suit the wishes and convenience of the State societies. This will require an expenditure of about $3,000, and a week's time was given the Madison people to raise the amount. Although the Dane county society has not pledged itself to raise the amount needed, yet some of the prominent citizens have become personally responsible, so that there is little doubt but that the cash will be forthcoming and the fair held there. It was urged in the meeting in behalf of Madison, that the grounds to be improved belonged to the State societies, and of course the $3,000 to be expended upon them would not only meet the wants of the fair, but would at the same time increase the value of the societies' property, while in Janesville the property belonged to the county society, and the improvements would be of no permanent benefit to the State societies. It was also argued that since the last fair was held in Madison, there had been an increase in population, three new railroad lines had been added, and in fact everything was so conditioned that the receipts would be larger than ever before.

On behalf of Janesville it was urged that the figures taken from the reports of the Treasurer, showed that for the seven years in which the fair was held in Janesville, the State societies took in on the average, annually $2,526 more than was taken in on the average at Madison. It was urged with much force that the State societies did not need to have the value of their own grounds increased, as much as they needed ready cash to pay off their debts, and that in Janesville they could obtain more of this needed cash with less effort than in Madison. The past was proof sufficient on this point, as the gate receipts had always been much larger in Janesville than in Madison. It was also urged that it had been the practice of the State societies to hold the fair for at least two successive years in one place. The Rock county society last year expended a good deal of money, and ought to have the benefit of the old-time practice of having the fair for two years at least.

In spite of these points so ably urged by Mr. Miner, the committee decided adversely to Janesville.

HONOR TO THE DEAD.

Yesterday morning a requiem mass was performed at St. Patrick's church, in honor of the late Pope. The church was very appropriately trimmed with mourning, and an elegant catafalque was arranged. Father Doyle delivered an able discourse in which he reviewed the labors and character of the Pope, and drew some forcible lessons for the benefit of his auditors. The occasion was deeply interesting, and drew together a large number of worshippers.

A BAD FALL.

Dr. C. L. Martin, of this city, while in attendance at the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons in Milwaukee last Wednesday met with a serious accident, which came near resulting fatally. While in a large wholesale house in that city he fell through an elevator way, the doors of which had been left open. He fell a distance of about fifteen feet striking on his head and knocking him senseless. He was at once removed to the Plankinton house, and medical assistance called. In about two hours he regained his consciousness and has since so far recovered that he was able to return home last evening. The escape from death was a narrow one.

A METHODISTIC SOCIAL.

The Court Street Methodist rallied last evening at J. B. Carle's for one of their socials, which are becoming so popular. The house was well filled, and Mr. Carle and his good lady were in their happiest mood for making all who came feel at home. Miss Lizzie Blinn favored the company with two charming songs, which were highly enjoyed. Miss Blinn is a great favorite with the music lovers of Janesville, and makes new friends wherever she sings. Prof. Van Cleave yielded to urgent requests, and in his inimitable manner treated the company to the story of Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal, and recited some gems from the poem. He also delighted those present by reciting "What John P. Robinson Thinks," from Lowell's Bigelow Papers, bringing out the neat humor of the piece. The young people spent the evening pleasantly in various parlor amusements, which are now found in every well regulated deacon's house, and the company separated feeling that Brother Carle knows how to run a social.

BELOIT.

—Police Justice, E. P. King, Esq. is lying at the point of death; but little if any hopes are entertained of his recovery.

—The large dry goods house of C. F. Bentley & Son, who filed voluntary petition in bankruptcy, Feb. 7, is now closed and will remain so until after the election of an assignee which takes place Feb. 28. It was the intent to have a provisional assignee appointed so the business could be kept running until after the election of a permanent one; but Judge Bunn desired the application as he entertained different views regarding such cases than has hitherto been the practice in this District under Judge Hopkins. The Messrs. Bentley have been in business here a little over two years, and during that time, by upright dealing, have won many friends. It is sincerely hoped that the compromise, which is now under a settlement, will be effected and they thereby be able to resume business in a short time.

—Occasionally a load of corn, occasionally a load of swine, and now and then a load of wood, finds its way into the city seeking a market. These are long-some sights, and not at all suggestive of the "good time coming."

—The dry goods merchants are to close their places of business from this date at 7:30 p. m., Saturdays excepted. Hard on the "gas man."

—A Beloit lawyer seems to be ailing. He rolled a couple of half kegs of ale into his buggy the last time he visited Janesville.—Gazette, February 19. Did he have a straw?

—Our citizens already begin to appreciate the advantages of a daily mail to and from Janesville. But why can't we have the Gazette by the evening stage?

—J. B. Dow, Esq., and Wm. P. Frost were among the "stampedeers" at the Newhall House, Milwaukee, on Monday night, when the fire occurred. There was considerable smoke, a little fire and a very amusing under parade.

—Dr. H. P. Strong represents The Knights of Honor of this city at the meeting of the Grand Lodge in Milwaukee this week.

—J. H. Reigoot Esq., has been sunning himself in New Orleans since the first week of the new year. The manners, customs, and social habits of the natives there are not according to his latest rendering just what a northerner, brim full of progressive ideas, would want to tie to. However, he thinks his power of endurance will hold out until after the celebration of the "Mardi Gras" though he does not incline to participate otherwise than a spectator.

—Rev. Geo. Bushnell at the First Congregational Church gave his congregation "Hell" last sabbath or, in other words, discoursed upon the much mooted theme "Eternal Punishment."

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes Dandruff, and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist, A. J. Roberts, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. Janesvilleadvertiser
